

CRUSADER PATHS

Greece and Turkey in one tour

By group request

Tour biking destinations: Kos, Rhodes, Kalymnos, Nisyros, Symi.

Turkey destinations: Bodrum and Marmari

DESCRIPTION

In the 14th century the Knights of St. John arrived to the Dodecanese islands from Jerusalem. Many harbor towns still bear the regal façade of that era with castles, forts, moats, and palaces. The entire old town of Rhodes has been declared a World Heritage Site.

Kos and Rhodes are the tour's anchor islands. Ferry rides extend the biking to day trips to Kalymno, Nisyros and Symi islands.

Get your passports out for day boats to Bodrum and Marmari in Turkey. Visit the Halicarnassus Mausoleum in Bodrum, one of the 7 Wonders of the Ancient World.

This tour is more price-y than others because it offers luxury accommodations and there are many sea transfers, often with the support vehicle.

Before or after your Crusader Paths tour, take time to visit Athens in a multi-day bike tour that includes the Acropolis, the Temple of Poseidon, Attica wineries and other famous interesting sites. If you are a family, the wineries tour can be substituted with a more child-friendly tour. See Add-on tab.

If you only have one day to see Athens, consider our one-day tours at Athens Day Tours.

ITINERARY

Arrive to Kos by 12:00 noon to participate in late afternoon ride walking tour of Kos town.

Daily flights to Kos are available from Athens and various European cities. Or take the overnight ferry boat from Piraeus, depart roughly 17:00, arrive 05:30 am

Day 1: Kos

Welcome to Kos, home of Hippocrates, the Father of Medicine. You are introduced to Kos town by a walking tour that includes the harbor's imposing Knights of St. John Crusader Castle. Welcome dinner on the harbor. Walking, no biking.

Day 2: Kos

On your first full day in Kos guests are compelled to pay homage to Hippocrates by biking to the ruins where he maintained a school and clinic. After lunch a bike ride to Therma, the natural hot springs that flow out of seaside cliffs into the cool Mediterranean waters. Biking: 26 kilometers, 16 miles

Day 3: Kos and Bodrum, Turkey

A day trip to Bodrum by boat. The mighty medieval castle guarding the harbor entrance cannot be missed, nor its Museum of Underwater Archaeology whose exhibits expertly recreate the inner contents of an ancient sunken ship. Also, the Halicarnassus Mausoleum, one of the 7 Wonders of the Ancient World. Walking, no biking.

Day 4: Kos and Nisyros

We leave Kos for the day by biking to Kardamena and taking a boat to the tiny volcanic island of Nisyros having fewer than 1000 inhabitants. Hot springs and a descent into a dormant volcano are the island's highlights. Traditional Greek music and dancing in the evening. Biking: 28 km, 17 miles

Day 5: Rhodes

We take the ferry to Rhodes whose Old Town said to be the largest medieval city in Europe and the epicenter of Crusader activity in Greece. Your first activity is a guided tour of this fascinating walled city, including a stroll through the dry moat. Also visit an active hamam (Turkish bath), the Jewish Quarter, the labyrinthine alleyways, hidden courtyards, and much more. Walking, no biking.

Day 6: Rhodes

We cycle to the famous Valley of the Butterflies set in an enchanting shaded forest, and continue on to Seven Springs, another verdant spot flush with natural water. Biking: 30 km, 18 miles

Day 7: Rhodes and Marmari, Turkey

A day trip by boat to Marmari, Turkey submerges us into an oriental atmosphere of Middle East cuisine, Islamic architecture, mosques and a busy bazaar selling fine jewelry, leather and carpets. Walking, no biking.

Day 8: Rhodes

On our last day we cycle to Lindos, first inhabited in 3,000 BC. Its Acropolis was one of the most sacred in ancient Greece and later the Crusaders fortified its walls which tower 410 feet above the car-free town. Biking: 35 km, 21.70 miles

Day 9: Departure
